LABOR'S DEMANDS.

An Immense Number of Men to Join the Unemployed.

About Meeting Jackson ressional Committee Begins the Investigation of Political

Methods Down In Arkansas-Eastern News.

Why Slogger Sullivan is Diffident

By Telegraph to The Times. CHICAGO, April 24.—[By the Associated Press.] It was originally the intention of the American Federation of Labor that the carpenters only should at present make the demand for the eight-hour day. But the developments today and yesterday show that other trades are not likely to conform to the instructions of President Gompers. Nearly every prominent trade of the city has, through its union, declared its intention to also demand eight hours a day on May 1st. Gompers desired the other trades to hold off and contribute financially to the carpenters Gompers desired the other trades to hold off and contribute financially to the carpenters' assistance until the latter had gained their point, then other trades to come in turn by turn. But President Gompers's circular letter has been entirely disregarded, and in addition to the carpenters, the stockyards and packing-house employes, gas fitters, from moiders, stair builders, mill carpenters and harmess-makers have aiready declared their intention to fight, and their example is likely to be followed by the tailors, shoemakers, plasterers, lathers, cornice makers and other trades.

Joseph Gruerhut, who has long had a prominent place among the socialistic labor ogstators of this city, now tenement-house inspector and statistician of the health department, has compiled a table of figures of the numbers of laboring people of thus city who will either strike for eight hours on the 1st of May or be made idle by the strikes in collateral industries.

According to this table the number of wage-workers, male and female, who will not be at work at this time reaches the surprising aggregate of 225,000. This calculation covers only the city, as this is previous to last year's annexation of the towns of Hyde Park, Lakeview, Cleero, Lake and Jefferson. The town of Lake alone contains 35,000 people directly affected by the strike now contemplated. Of this great aggregate 199,000 are males and 24,000 females. The number of firms involved is 11,500.

A conference of strikers and bosses not members of the Master Carpenters' Association, tonight, agreed upon a plan of action. The bosses showed they could provide work for 4000 journeymen. It was agreed that committees from the botses and strikers call on the old masters' association before Saturday and piace that body on record. It is understood the in any event the strike will be decisred of on Saturday as exercise to any exercise sippi Case Is Ended.

BOSTON, April 24.—[By the Associated Press.] The announcement of the final offer of the California Athletic Club to make a purse of $20,000 for Sullivan and Jackson was received by the champion without especial interest. The offer is entirely satisfactory to him, and, although he declines to talk yet, it is well known to his intimates to talk yet, it is well known to his intimates here that he will fight Jackson on the terms named. What Sullivan is chiefly concerned feels confident from the ring.

WAS IT EYRAUD?

Suicide Who Greatly Resembled the Murderer.

New York, April 24.—By the Associated Press.] Coroner Wood of Port Richmond said today that he felt sure that the body of the Willow Brook suicide was that of the Willow Brook suicide was that of Michael Eyraud, the Parisian strangler who killed Deputy Marshal Gouffe. Afrer the inquest was adjourned last evening the Coroner found marks on the body such as Eyraud was said to have. The left leg gave evidence that it had at one time been broken. The French strangler's leg is said to have been broken in the same place. The large and peculiar-shaped eyes were similar to those of Eyraud. The forehead, nose and hands all corresponded with those of the French nurderer. Before the Coroner and his jury left the county-house at midnight they were fully convinced that the body of the suicide was that of Eyraud. Coroner Wood came specially to the city to inform the French Consul that the suicide was the French strangler Eyraud, and to inquire as to what action the French government intended to take in the matter. The French Consul viewed the remains with two persons who know Eyraud, and they declared the remains not his.

He Thinks the Pan-American Congress No Good.
CHICAGO, April 24.—[By the Associated Press.] Anselmo Morago, who represented Chill at the Pan-American Congress, ar rived here yesterday. "The P.n-American Congress," he said, "will not do this coun try one bit of good. We are more than sat the trade of the Spanish countries. Some the trade of the Spanish countries. Some of the merchants are in sympathy with us, but they are powerless. Your Government does not want to trade with us. If we had known that eight months ago, the invitation to look over your industries would never have been accepted.

"Today the United States stands with a massive stone wall around it. We see no place to enter and we can't very well tear it down to bring in goods. The cry of protection has heartily disgusted all of the Spanish delegates, and they will be only too glad to get home and begin the work of bettering our trade relations with foreign countries."

The sub-committee of the House Election Committee appointed to Investigate the alleged frauds in the Second Congressional District "rived here this afternoon. C. R. Breckinridge, the contestee, came along with the committee. The parties to the investigation were represented by Judge McClure, and the contestee by J. H. Harrod. County Clerk Ferguson of Woodruff county and County Clerk Wright of Conway county were placed on the stand. Ferguson produced the poll-books and ballots of Riverside, Augusta, Cotton Plant and White River townships for the election in November, 1888. After some examination, the Inquiry was adjourned until tomorrow.

FIRE AND EXPLOSION.

Four Men Killed and Sixteen Wounded. Wounded.
ALLENTOWN (Pa.), April 24.—[By the second Press.] At 6:30 this morning Associated Press.] At 6:30 this morning fire was discovered in the dryhouse of the Unicorn silk mill at Catasaque. The flames destroyed the building, together with the machinery, a quantity of fine silks, plushes, ribbons, etc. John Cooper, Charles Frick and John Tottejeaux, an Italian, lost their lives, and about twenty-five more were injured.

While the firemen and employes were working hard to control the flames an explosion of vitrol and other acids took place, and before the firemen could escape several were caught by falling walls and many injured by flying deoris.

Ulysses G. Everett, aged 18, was fatally injured. George Pfaff, was fatally injured. Charles Frick's skull was fractured; he will die. Michal Moran was internally injured and cannot live; William Price had his bead cut; William Fenser Mayer had a legbroken; Thomas James was burned and hurt by falling débris; George Fehnel was suightly injured; Peter Derhammer was cut by flying glass and débris.

A corrected list of the casualties tonight shows four men dead and 16 wounded. Of the wounded three will probably die. The loss on the mill will amount to $200,000.

this morning clocks were stopped at 3:37. The vibrations were from northeast to southwest and lasted 10 seconds. The plastering cracked in buildings. The temperature was 4e°, with heavy atmosphere. Not a breath of air was stirring. Tail trees swayed to and fro, making a loud and hissing noise.

The bridge near Pescadero is impassable. Both end piers, 60 feet high, swayed and settled a few inches. The rails pulled a foot apart. The ground settled six to twelve inches in places. Every available man was put to work by the railroad obmpany repairing. It is expected trains will be delayed only a few hours. Superintendent Bassett started early this morning by special train to look after repairing the damage.

A RAHWAY DAMAGED.

GILEOY, April 24.—The heaviest earthquake shock since 1863 was feit here this morning at 3:40, lasting about ten seconds, making house timbers crack at a lively rate. Clocks were stopped and light articles, crockery and gissaware toppled down. The shocks continued until 6 o'clock, there being 12 well-defined ones in all. Citizens were badly scared. A bridge at Paj-ro was thrown out of line a couple of feet and the approaches damaged, necessitating a construction train for repairs. The Monterey and Santa Cruz morning trains were unable to connect. The morth-bound morning passenger from here was sent with a freight engine. He had been en-couraged to hope for a solution by Lord Salisbury declaring that the measure would Salisbury declaring that the measure would not impose a burden upon the British taxpayer. He was disappointed, however, when Baltour informed the House that the measure pledged the country to the extent of £33,000,000, without mentioning the possibility of further amounts being asked. Regarding Parnell's plan, he said it was new in principle. Its general purpose was clear, but he was not certain that he comprehended the detuls. [Conservative laughter.] He strongly sympathized with one object of Parnell's plan, whereby landlords would not be expatriated, but would be retained. It would be a sorrowful conclusion of the life of the landlord class if, when local government was established in Ireland, they did not take part in adjusting affairs. Baltour's bill ought to be confined to landlords already in possession. It should not encourage landlords to become buyers of land in order to take advantage of the enormous boons offered, lihear, hear.]

The provisions respecting two years' arrears also required justification, which it would be difficult to find. [Cheers.]

Coming to what he called constitutional objections, he urged that it was obvious that Ireland opposed the measure in view of the fact that five-sixths of the Irish members deliberately and determinedly opposed it. [Cheers.] As the government was going to make Ireland its debtor, it was important to consider what was the attitude of the persons about to be subjected not impose a burden upon the British tax-was important to consider what was the autit ide of the persons about to be subjected to the debts. A state of landlordism implies the use of soldiers against the tenants, the use of every weapon of the state to enforce an unpopular law.

Guschen said Gladstone contended that tenants would be deprived of benefits intended for them. Moriey's argument was that non-purchase tenants would agitate to get their rants lowered to the same scale as purchasers' ronts. He arreed with both Gladstone and Parnell in desiring to retain landlords in Ireland, but the bill did not necessarily lead to their expartiation.

T. W. Russell, Liberat Unicolar, approved the bill on all penns.

Areology that the guarantees were illinous, he said that during periods of famine or distress tenants might refuse to pay their in stallments and the government would be interly poweries to enforce payment Furthermore, there was danger of a Feniar movement, entailing a loss of millions to England. He favored land purchase, but not under coercion.

A REPUBLIC'S PERIL. Affairs Still Continue Very Squally

In Brozil.

Montevidro, April 24.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] A newspaper says a telegram from Rio de Janeiro announces a crisis in the Brazilian Cabinet, that Bar-

Some people were badly frightened. any other method, and that it will effectually preclude any attempt to revive the monarchy. Opponents of the idea say a constitution framed by persons not clothed with constitutional authority by the people is not binding, and would merely preserve and prolong the present military provisional government. Wild rumors about riot, revolutions, etc., continue to be circulated frequently, but when run down aiways prove to be jests circulated with malicious motives. The government supposes the authors of the reports to be monarchists. Yesterday a placard was posted in many parts decrying the present government and insinuating revolution. Its author was not found. It is reported it was an attempt to cause a revolt among the troops at Bahla, and it is asserted that much dissatisfaction exists in the army.

GENERAL FOREIGN BUDGET

The Thunderer's Views on American Silver Question London, April 24.—[By Cable and Asso-ciated Press.] The Times in its financial article says: "America is practically committed to the open adoption of the silver standard at not a very remote date. This is an odd position for one of the richest nations of the world to occupy, but only a cur-rency fanatic will allege that it is necessarily bad for America, though possibly when the full consequences of the situation are perceived. Americans may not altogether like them. In the immediate future the measure, if passed, will doubtless be popular."

ANTI-SEMITIC BIOTS.

VIENNA, April 24. — A serious antiSemitic demonstration occurred at Bial, Galicia. A mob numbering 4000 attacked the Jewish quarter, wrecked and sacked an number of dwellings and shops. Troops were called out, but did not succeed in restoring order before three of the mob were killed. LONDON, April 24.—The Standard's Vienna correspondent says: Foreign agitators have been at Bial for several days incling a mob sgainst the Jews. Women infilmed with drink exeited the men against the troops. Uneasiness is felt throughout Austra. Galicia. A mob numbering 4000 attacked Moscow, April 24.—Five sisters named Domovieroff, the youngest 19 years old, committed suicide here today. Ashes found in their apartment showed they burned a number of papers before taking their lives. It is believed fear of arrest as Nihilists led to the commission of the deed.

GRAND SUCCESS OF OUR DRESS. PATTERN SALE.

The Slaughter Will Be Continued Today-Full Suits at Prices Rang-ing from $1.95 to $27.50-Many Other Bargains.

PROPLE'S STORE, FRIDAY, April 25, 1890. Of course, we knew well enough our sale of Combination Dress Patterns would take, Of course, we knew well enough our sale of Combination Dross Patterns would take, but, to tell the truth, we hardly expected they would go with such a rush the first day. Why, our Dress Goods Department was just thronged all the time; had to call extra help from other departments to assist. We sold, of the different grades of the suits, 128 dress patterns altogether. They went at all prices; some favored the cheap ones, others the medium prices, in the neighborhood of $4$ to $7$, and a fow the higher priced ones. It's hard to tell which are taking the best. They all go well, and are excellent values or they wouldn't be so much sought after. Just think of combination suits, combined with silk, as low as $2.95 for a complete garment. Is it any wonder we have such a rush? This suit sale continues today. The line includes full suits at each price, from $1.95 to $27.50 each. Is addition to this great attragition, today is our regular remnant and old and end day, so you may be sure of making a profitable call. ay be sure of making a profitable call.

THE CLAYTON MURDER.

THE ASSASSIN LOCATED LOS ANGELES COUNTY

But He Cannot Be Punished, for the Reason That He Is Dead-Evidence Dug Up by Sheriff Aguirre and His Deputies-What Gov. Eagle of Arkansas Thinks of It-A Startling Story.

The cowardly assassination of John M. Clayton, in Conway county, Ark., in the winter of 1888, caused a thrill of horror throughout the United States, and has led to a Congressional investigation of the matter, the committee being now in Little Rock, Ark. Arkansas taking testimony in the case. There is every reason to believe that the murderer has been discovered in Los Angeles county, but that he cannot be punished for the crime, as he is dead.

It will be remembered that John M. Clayton was the Republican candidate for Congress in 1888 against Hon. Clifton R. Breckinridge, the Demo-cratic incumbent of the office from his cratic incumbent of the office from his district. The campaign was a very hot one, and the controversies which grew out of it were very bitter. Mr. Breckinridge was a candidate for reëlection, and represented the purely southern element, being, as his name would indicate, a son of the famous southern statesman, Hon. John C. Breckinridge. He rallied to his standard all the men who had fought on the Bouthern statesman, Hon. John C. Breckinridge. He rallied to his standard all the men who had fought on the Confederate side during the war, and his adherents felt particularly averse to his Republican opponent.

John M. Clayton, the Republican candidate, was a brother of ex-United States Senator Powell Clayton, and had lived for many years in Jefferson county, Ark., where he had filled many positions of trust. For several years the was Sheriff of the county, and was not only a man of intelligence, but a brave and popular man, the latter despite his Republican proclivities, which is generally cause for persecution in that section. When Gen. Steele captured Little Rock during the war, Gen. Powell Clayton was with his army. His brothers, John M. and W. H. H. Clayton, came to the State several months afterward, and at the close of the war all three remained in in contesting the seat.

In pursuance of his purpose he finally went to Conway county, where outrageous frauds upon the ballot-box had been perpetrated; frauds which leaked out and were heralded abroad leaked out and were heralded abroad throughout the country.

Without fear or favor, Mr. Clayton set about collecting evidence in that country, to be used in his contest before Congress. It was while thus engaged, and while he was one night seated at a table in his lodging-house, looking over the evidence collected during the day, that an assassin killed him. Without a word of warning, a bullet crashed through the window from a carefully-aimed weapon and plerced his brain.

aimed weapon and pierced his brain, killing him instantly.

The assassination caused a great revulsion of feeling on the part of the Democrats of the State, and the crime was universally denounced. The Legislature, which was in session at the time, authorized a large reward to be offered for the capture of the assassin, and the amount from various sources swelled until it reached the sum of

and the amount from various sources swelled until it reached the sum of $30,000.

All efforts to detect the perpretator of the foul and dastardly crime were unavailing. So generally was it believed to be a political murder that Congress took action to have it thoroughly investigated, and appointed its committee, which will begin its labors in Little Rock this week, having the power to summons witnesses before it and take evidence.

By a series of strange chances a chain of circumstances has involved a man named Thomas Hooper as the probable perpetrator of the crime, and Gov. J. P. Eagle, the present Governor of Arkansas, has been in correspondence for some time with the Sheriff's office in this county in regard to the atter. Sheriff Martin Aguirre, Deputy Will A. Hammel and Detective and take him back to Arkansas. The high water, which cut off communication was resumed it was found that their man had been taken sick with pneumonia and had died.

It did not stop the investigation, however, as Gov. Eagle was very anxious to secure all the evidence possible to lay before the Congressional committie.

The first information received by Sheriff Aguirre and Mr. Hammel about the matter was in June of last year. One night in that month a man giving his name as Charles W. Lewis, and who was afterward found to be a reliable man, called at the Sheriff's office and told Deputy Will Hammel that he had knowledge of a crime which he felt it his duty to tell. He said that in the latter part of 1888 he made the acquaintance of Thomas Hooper. The latter had been put out of a house in which he was living for non-payment of rent, and Lewis took him into his house and cared for him, Hooper being sick at the time. The result was that Hooper became very friendly with him. Hooper was moody and surly at times, and Lewis finally asked him what troubled him.

He replied, intimating that in 1868 he killed two men in Conway county, Arkansas, whose names lewis caught as Thomas and May. Little by little he told Lewis that several years before that his father had been killed in Arkansas by a body of men who took him from a jail and lynched him. He swore vengeance upon the perpetrators at the time, and told Lewis that the two men whom he had killed were two of the ringleaders in the lynching party, while Clayton was the third, and he would not rest easy in his grave unless he succeeded in killing him before he died.

"If you ever hear of Clayton dying with his boots on," he remarked to Lewis, "you will know who killed him."

Hooper also related the circum-

Lewis, "you will know who killed him."
Hooper also related the circumstances of the killing of the two men before referred to. He said they were passing down through a corntield when he saw them and ambushed them, killing them both.
During December Lewis further stated that Hooper disappeared from Los Angeles. He had thought over what Hooper told him, and it stuck fast in his memory. Not long after Hooper left he read the account of Clayton's assassination in the news-Clayton's assassination in the news Clayton's assassination in the newspapers, and at once associated him with it. After a week or two he went to Hooper's house and found his sonthere. He asked him where his father had gone, and the son replied that he did not know.

Lewis then lost sight of the family, and heard later on that Hooper had returned, and whereas he had no money when he went away, he now bought returned, and whereas he had no money when he went away, he now bought a ranch costing quite a large sum of money. He finally made up his mind to tell the authorities what he knew, and did so.

Working upon the clew thus furnished the officers finally located Hooper on a ranch some twenty miles from Los Angeles, near the Ranchito, and steps were taken which verified the tact that he had been absent from the State during the time mentioned

During the course of the investiga-During the course of the investiga-tions several letters were received from Gov. Eagle, which threw consid-erable light on the matter. In Novem-ber, 1889, he wrote to Sheriff Aguirre, stating that Tom Hooper was brought war, Gen. Powell Clayton was with his army. His brothers, John M. and W. H. H. Clayton, came to the State several months afterward, and at the close of the war all three remained in Arkansas. Gen. Clayton became the reconstruction Governor of the State. His brothers settled, John M. in Pine Bluff and W. H. H. Clayton at Fort Smith, where he now resides. During Gov. Clayton's régime occurred what are known in Arkansas as the Clayton raids, which covered Conway county around a reword in Arkansas as the Clayton raids, which covered Conway county among others. They were the result of violence and bloodshed by turbulent spirits chafing under reconstruction, and the Governor sent millitia to that section of the State to quell the reign of terror which prevailed. "Clayton's militia" did its work thoroughly, and there was considerable bloodshed, leaving behind a feeling of indescribable bitterness toward the carpet-baggers, as those who settled in the South after the war were called. If ever a man was-hated by the native inhabitants, it was Gov. Powell Clayton for the purpose of the United States Senate, where his career is well known.

It is sufficient for the purpose of the recollections of the disagreeable events of the past were revived, and John M. Eagle's communications it is evident that, working upon the clews furnished from working upon the clews furnished from Los Angeles, he has been pursuing investigations in Arkansas, and there may be facts known there which will either make Hooper's connection with the crime conclusive or clear his name from the suspicion which has attached to it. Should the evidence be strong enough to prove his guilt, his possession of so much money after his return from Arkansas will not tend to strengthen the theory that it was committed by him for revenge alone, but that some persons interested saw him through the dark deed with money that may have come from a political that may have come from a political

THE FLOWER SHOW.

ANOTHER BIG CROWD AT THE PAVILION.

Fully 4000 People in Attendance st Evening - An Interesting Exhibition by the Wheelmen-A Fine Programme Arranged for Tonight-New Features at the Various Booths.

It is surprising how susceptible the heart is to the loveliness of flowers. They are teachers who touch the main spring of human feeling. It is interesting to watch the moving crowd at the Pavilion as they walk amid the fragrance and the brightness of the flower-crowned place. The everyday world is left outside. Its angry passions, its rudeness and its care, all vanish for the time being under the magic of this fragrant beauty. "Flowers are God's thoughts," saith the poet. They are more than that—they are His divinest earth-psalms and the eloquence of His

The Pavilion last night was a pleasant sight, filled, as its open spaces were, with smiling faces, with youth and beauty, and those of fuller years.

"What alovely place,"said one. "It is What alovely place, "said one. "It is like a poem," was the response. "I never tire of flowers," remarked an-other, and what wonderful treasures of them there are here tonight. "The East can never show anything like this," added an enthusiastic gentleman who arrived in Los Angeles but a day or two ago, and who looked for the first time upon Southern California's flower show.

Passing among the crowd, there were the faces of many strangers seen. If there were those among them who had med of frontier life upon these shores, and had felt that in coming hither they had left behind them the refinements that lend a charm to home, if they took a luok at the lovely table decorations which last night were in charge of the Woman's Exchange, they must have been quickly undeceived. Was there ever a daintier table spread?

The decorations were wholly in white and green. The table service

The decorations were wholly in white and green. The table service was of delicate china. The silver crives showed handles of mother-oftheir brightness. The tonnieres consisted of a dainty white rosebud, with a tiny spray of green. The general decorations were white verbenas and ferns, together with the Japanese maple. The favors were exquisite—sprays of white verbenas, with tiny green leaves placed in miniature shell boats, each drawn by a silver swan. The exquiste candelabras were of a pale green tint, each holding a trinity of candles of the loveliest green. The floral centerplece was a pyramid like cluster of spotless verbenas, intermingled with delicate maidenhair ferns. The base was encircled by the feathery palypodrum with its long, slender green sprays. The individual butter-plates were like pansies, and were the only hint of varying color. Mmes. Joslyn, King and Slauson were the fairnes of this table decoration. Some little newsboys seeing the table spread inquired: "Is this the table where we kids are to have some dinner?"

"O, no, my boy," replied the lady questioned.
"Well, I wish it was," responded the little street wanderer. "I'd just like to eat with them knives, better'n

Then came another newsboy and looked with eyes full of wonder. A dream of beauty and of reverence was stirred in that untaught little heart. For a moment he stood speechless, then in quiet tones said: "I say, ma'm, is that the Lord's table?"

An the pathos of it! May the Lord find that stray lamb of His and bring him into the fold.

The lavender booth last night was another center of attraction. Many changes have been made in it since Wednesday evening, and it is royal in its wealth of flowers.

Among its fine pieces is the floral bicycle of white marguerites, pansies and smilax. The rims of the wheels are of the spotless marguerites, with their hearts of gold; the spokes of smilax, and the seat of rich dark purple pansies, royal enough for a king. Upon the opposite end is a floral ship—the green hull of smilax, the sails and the green hull of smilax, the sails and the marguerites and the polonia imperialis, while the ropes are of slender smilax. The anchor of pansies and gillyflowers is cast into a purple pansy sea, and the ship sails on a fragrant and placid ocean of heliotrope, where never stormwinds blow and ships are freighted only with bright hopes.

At the back of this booth a tall yucca rises with its thousands of cream-like blossoms, and baskets filled with bloom are suspended beneath the broad arches. And there is a great golden horseshoe of yellow pansies, and wonderful beds of bloom where the rarest flowers are intermingled.

About these and all the other booths the shifting crowd gathers, and everywhere we find the love of flowers is universal. Underneath the roaghest exteriors oftimes we discover the most refined sentiment and delicate feeling.

And the Flower Festival reaches this. It touches the soul.

The Evening. Fully four thousand people attended the flower show last night. The bunting which extends from the top of the building to the second gallery was raised from the gallery yesterday so that people could get a good view from that people could get a good view from that part of the house, and hundreds of people took advantage of it last night and crowded to the seats in the back of the hall and around the railing. The view from this point is excellent and all who climbed the stairs were amply repaid for their trouble. The attendance was made up last night principally of people from the country and strangers in the city. The attendance during the day was up to the average, and at 10 o'clock the box-office receipts showed that $\frac{94}{1.05}$ had been taken in during the day and evening. As near as could be learned at that hour the booths took in about four hundred dollars. This is a good showing for the third day, and if the ladies succeed in taking in $2000 tonight, and the same sum tomorrow night, when they hope to close, they will have been amply repaid for their labor.

The musical programme last night was up to the standard, and was greatly enjoyed by the audience. The Los Angeles wheelmen under the direction of S. G. Spier took possession of the stage shortly after S o'clock and gave an interesting entertainment. The following wheelmen engaged in the exercises:

NOTES.

The ladies were presented with a number of season tickets yesterday. Their first lot had been used up, and the present came in good season.

In the art gallery is a clever marine sketch in crayon by Bobbie Burns, aged 15, a versatile youth, who excels as a dancer and musician, as well as a state.

They have their hands full and deserve considerable credit.

The raising of the bunting in the gallery greatly improved the appearance of the hall.

Yesterday Mmes. A. L. Lynn, F. R. Warner, Misses Clarence Warner and Miss Sadie Simmons came in as reinforcements to the ladies in charge of the rose mounds.

the rose mounds.

Hoffman's nursery sent in a fine rose exhibit yesterday.

There are 300 varieties of wild flowers in the wild-flower booth. Since the fair opened, Mrs. J. C. Newton, who is in charge of this booth, has sold four yucca plants.

The boutonniere booth, under the management of the Oxymel Club, is made up of 6000 roses. It is presided over by Miss Fannie Lockhart, Mmes. Larrabee and Crisp, and eleven young ladies beautifully costumed. The costumes are of white materials, and from the number of gentlemen who are constantly in attendance the young ladies are certainly taken for angels. The club is musical and literary and is the only club in the city that does not adjourn during the summer months.

The C. Cooking club, in charge of the candy booth, is composed of eighteen young ladies and two married ladies. The attendance at this booth is good every evening and the sales are large.

The soda fountain had done such a large business that the booth had to be enlarged yesterday. The ladies in this booth are hard workers.

The special exhibit has a number of admirers, who spend much of their time around the booth.

The purple-booth is made of thousands of pausies. It is one of the pretadmirers, who spend much of their time around the booth.

The purple booth is made of thousands of pansies. It is one of the prettiest booths in the hall.

The young men of the Y.M.C.A. have greatly assisted in the arrangement of flowers, and in other ways.

The newspaper booth did a good business yesterday, both in the sale of pictures and photographs of the display.

Mrs. W. C. Furrey and Miss E. Hadley and James Slauson of the supply committee are doing good work.

Miss Virginia Witmer, president of the committee on designs, is busy night and day. She is one of the most active ladies about the hall.

Mrs. J. D. Birch, James Slauson and Manager Baldwin are doing good work.

The clear and hatroom did a rashing business lest night.

CAHUENGA FACTS AND FANCIES.

A ride into and along the Ca-huenga footbills at this season reveals evidences of growth and scenic beauty that fill the apscenic beauty that fill the ap-preciative beholder with profound ad-miration. The country is looking its best; the tree-growth is perfection it-self; the fruiting of the finest varieties is something wonderful to see, so luxuriant, so free from blemish and so promising is it. The apricot, the peach, the pear, the plum, the French' prune, the apple, the walnut—all the temperate-clime fruits, in short-seem to be entirely at home here, and, so far as developed, yield largely. For small fruits and early vegeta bles this favored and protected region is, par excellence, the spot for the small, skillful farmer and close tiller. Astonishing results have been achieved here in the growth of early tomatoes, peas, beans and melons. Frost is practically unknown above a certain line on the foothills; the soil is warm, friable, exceedingly fertile and easily worked, being the wash of the uplands for centuries, composed of rich vegetable mold and the detritus of the eternal hills. Water flows out of every canon, though irrigation is not resorted to or needed for ordinary crops. Thorough cultivation, intelligently applied, does the business and produces results that would be marvelous in any other country Heretofore the culture of the orange has not engaged the attention of the farmers of the Cahuenga region to any considerable extent; but results achieved on a small scale in several places prove beyond a doubt the espefitness of these fertile foothill slopes for the golden fruit. Trees as clean, thrifty, healthful and perfect as ever grew anywhere can be seen there today, bearing fruit as fine in appearance and as delicious in fla-vor as ever matured under tropic skies. The Washington Navel, our finest all-round variety of orange seems to do especially well in the Cahuenga country. As to the lemon and the lime, their growth and fruitage are everything that could be de-A home on these "celestial foothills" is a possession to be envied by any man who loves a home, appreciates Nature, or prizes the boon of self-supporting independence. The climate is tender and alluring. The kindly California sun, shining during more than three hundred days in every year, softens the ever-blowing sea-breeze, till the buenos aires of the blue Pacific kiss the cheek with velvety touch. The equable air is purity itself; no malaris lies concealed in it to assail the health of the foothill dweller; no burning heat or freezing cold are borne by it to disturb the even comfort of the happy denizen. The scenery is striking, and every prospect pleases. From almost any elevation on these commanding foothills a wonderful panorams lies spread below for the delectation ing foothills a wonderful panorama lies spread below for the delectation of the beholder. The grass-covered plain, alive with fast cattle and prencing horses, and dotted with growing farms, smiling fields and happy hamlets; the calm ocean, with white-winged ships upon its waters, pretty towns upon its shores, and the afternoon sun gleaming from its glassy surface: the city. ing from its glassy surface; the city, with its hills and homes, its spires and steeples-all these pictures are to be seen at one sweep of the eye from the foothills of the Cahuenga.

The whole scene presents a combination rare, charming and attractive in the highest degree. Coming down from scenery to succotash, however, we desire to lay stress upon the substantial and unro mantic money results achieved in this soil. We shall endeavor to produce the actual or approximate figures at an early day, as they may be gathered from growers and shippers. A shipreceipt is a pretty good weapon with which to knock down a doubter who professes to believe that nothing green can be grown without irrigation When we show what has been and car be done in the growing of winter tomatoes; early asparagus, celery and lettuce; early peas, beans and corn; potatoes, peppers and cabbages; apricots, French prunes and other fruitsall produced without irrigation of any consequence—the real merits of this Cahuenga country will be obvious to the most obtuse. This one section. limited as it is, is capable of turning out untold tons of produce for cor sumption or shipment, and of supporting thousands of intelligent and industrious people in comfort and even Among other special adaptations, it is a fine spot for gentlemen farmers, if only they be gentle men farmers of sense, sagacity and intelligent appreciation of correct methods of soil culture.

"IN THE MATTER OF" HOGWASH

Under the able editorial heading of "In the Matter of Politics," that paper of unspeakable and indescribapolitics, the San Diego Sun, works off the following astonishing lot of porcine liquid:

porcine liquid:

The retirement of Gov. Waterman from the gubernatorial canvass is a piece of good polities, out of which the Governor doubtless has reason to expect a Senatorial benefit. By remaining in the field in a heady fight with Markham, it is quite fikely that he would have defeated both himself and his opponent, and given the Governorship to a Northern California man. As it is, there is a chance for Southern California to get both Governor and Senator, assuming what the last election and the present outlook go to show that the State is naturally Republican.

Republican.

Granting Los Angeles the nomination for Governor and San Bernardino the United States Senatorial candidacy. San Diego should bast on having the Congressman. It is our turn in that particular, and the county can present an acceptable many whether he be Judge Luce, Senator Bowers, Nestor A. Young or Douglass Gunn. San Diego ought to make this the price of its acceptance of the programme drawn up by the Markham-Waterman alliance.

Remarks.—(1.) Mr. Waterman's "Free Remarks .- (1.) Mr. Waterman's "re tirement" was necessity, not choice, and to talk about an expected "Sena-torial benefit" in this connection is the wildest sort of moon-eyed madness. (2.) "By remaining in the field," His for weeks past, and could not have been prevented by anybody but the people themselves; and they are not to be feared. (3.) The Sun is coolly peddling out the offices with a vengeance. The intimation that good faith may not be shown the upper country in the matter of the Senatorship is unwarrant able, and will be resented by every right-meaning Republican of Southern California. (4.) Any large part of the Sixth Congressional District that unites upon an able and acceptable candidate for Congress will doubtless receive the united cooperation of Los Angeles county in the nominating convention; but no third-rate man need apply for the honor. (5.) There was no "programme" and there is no "Markham-Waterman alliance."

THE SIXTH DISTRICT IN THE CONVENTION.

The apportionment of delegates to the State Republican Convention results in giving the Sixth District the large number of 193 delegates, out of a total for the State of 677. Follow ing are the figures for the counties comprising the Sixth District: Alpine..... MonoMonterey

Orange

.....193 Los Angeles, for instance, has increased her representation from 23, four years ago, to 63-or, including Orange, which was then part of this county, to 71-a gain of over 300 per

The Sixth District will wield great power in the convention, having nearly 28 per cent. of the total vote. Fortunately, however, there will be no need for the arraying of one section against another on the gubernatorial question. Col. Markham is so strong in the north that it may be confidently predicted that on the first ballot he will have not less than five hundred votes. At this rate it will not require more than fifteen or sixteen ballots to "settle the business.'

LET US GO TO THE FRONT. The Chicago World's Fair will offer an exceptional opportunity for Southern California to display its attrac-tions to the assembled millions from all parts of the world. We should make up our minds to put our best foot foremost, and leave no stone unturned to make a display worthy in every respect of this magnificent sec tion. It has already been proposed to have an orange and lemon grove under cover at the fair, as one contribution from Soutiern California. The idea is a good ose. Another good sugges-tionoing. To of a member of the Flower restive society, who proposed make a fibral exhibit at/Chicago. Flowers and fruits are our stronges points, and we ought to make such a display as will attract the attention evoke the admiration of the world.

AMONG THE POLITICIANS. Jeff C. James, the Fresno banker, is candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor. State Senator Goucher and George E. Church are candidates for the State Senate from the Fresno district.

Congress has granted the request of the single-tax advocates in providing for the enumeration of mortgages on land in the census.

Secretary Windom seems to be unable to dissociate the idea of silver as a merchandise from silver as a circu lating medium. He was a New York banker, and is doubtless under the spell of the golden calf that for years spell or the golden calf that for years has blatted so industriously in that market to down the modest but equally just claims of its silver sister in the West. In every respect except as a financial center, New York and the Atlantic seaboard have lost to the West their overshadowing prestige in political affairs. There is a saint of provincialism in the Secretary who imputes to gold an importance that would in no way be impaired by the recognition of silver as the equal of gold in the money system.—[San

The Los Angeles Herald sends forth the news that Hon. Stephen M. White has stated unreservedly that he did not intend, under any circumstances, to be a candidate for Governor. Of course not. It is not necessary for him to be a candidate. No one supposes that he is a candidate. He is too well known to make it a necessity for him to be a candidate. And if he for him to be a can discover been a can is not, and has never been a can his "authori didate, how can his "authoritative withdrawal invest the can-didacy of Mayor Pond with exceptional strength?" Now, this is all bosh. Mr. strength?" Now, this is all bosh. Mr. White cannot escape the nomination by any such manner of doing. In about another week or so another "authoritative statement" will be published by some powerful Democratic journal, just to keep the people impressed with the importance of the distinguished gentleman who refuses to be a candidate until after the convention meets.—[Fresno Budget.

The Committee on Privileges and Elections reported (as an original measure) the bill to amend and supplement the election laws of the United States, and provide for the more efficient enforcement of such laws.

bill to amend and supplement the election il aws of the United States, and provide for the more efficient enforcement of such laws. Placed on the calendar.

Mr. Pugh said every Democratic member of the committee opposed a favorable report on this bill, which he said requires Republican supervisors to oversee State officers, thereby insulting and degrading these State officers. It is subversive of the fundamental principles of local self-goverment. If this bill becomes a law its execution will insure the shedding of blood and the destruction of the peace and good order of the country.

Mr. Hoar replied that the bill is in substance a modification and perfection of a system which has been law in the United States for many years, and which has secured in the main honest elections and honest counts in the city of New York, where before 60,000 fraudulent naturalization papers have gone out from two judges with the tree dates here a section. Mr. Berry moved to amend the first section of the bill by striking out the word "now" and inserting the words "within the time specified in the act of Congress making the grants." The effect of the amendment, he said, would be not only to forfeit portions of land opposite lines not now constructed, but would forfeit all lands granted to railroad companies where lines are not now completed within the time fixed in the act and in the subsequent extension of it. r some debate the amendment was d, the Republicans voting in the After s

Mr. McKinley of Ohlo earnestly opposed the motion to strike out. If the Republican party was pledged to one single thing more than another, it was the maintenance of the civil-service law. BAYOU SARA (La.), April 24.—[By the Associated Press.] The real condition of things in the overflowed district is just coming to light. No pen is equal to the task of picturing the devastation of the country or the desolation of the people. The entire front of Pointe Coupé is under water. Most of the levees have gone. The water back of the levees is so deep that hundreds of lives are in jeopardy. Small stretches of levees still standing are crowded with men, women and children, standing side by side, with mules, horses and cows. In an old ginhouse 500 negroes were found huddled together. The condition of the unfortunate blacks is pitiable. They are usly begging to be taken to some place

The crevasse at Alendale will overflow 30 of the direct plantations on the river. This water will reach the Teche country several days in advance of the Morganza water, and old river men say that when this water joins with the Morganza technical Lafourche sind Technical Countries. The damage is incalculable. The distress in the overflowed district cannot be told.

A Texas and Pacific boat succeeded yes-erday in saving 300 people from the back country around Morganza.

TENSAS PARISH INUNDATED. NEW ORLEANS, April 24.—United States Engineer Douglass telegraphs that the Point Pleasant levee in Tensas parish gave way this morning. The water from it will no doubt overflow the greater part of the parish.

Capt. John A. Grant, superintendent of the Texas and Pacific Raliroad, speaking of the Morganza crevasse, said: "This is one of the worst calamities, that could have been avoided if people had only made the effort. They are to blame for it. Now they are creating a big hubbub about sending relief up there and all that sort of thing, while before the disaster occurred they seemed utterly unware of the impending danger. fore the disaster occurred they seemed utterly unaware of the impending danger. If need be, they should have raised $500,000 to hold that levee, and it could have been done and the imoney would have been well invested, as there is $20,000,000 worth of property that will be irretrievably damaged, which a little display of energy would certainly have saved. RUIN AND DESOLATION.

A special to the States from Bayou Sara says: Ruin and desolation meets the eye on says ruth and desoration meets the eye on every side in Points Coupé parish. The destruction is complete. Not a plantation is left above the water, not a levee is unbroken, while hundreds of families are homeless. Thousands of stock have been drowned, and from meager reports received from the interior it is quite probable that human life has been sacrificed to the flood. Standing on the relief steamer Dakota last evening the full extent of the dis. ster could be seen. Grouping together on little knoils between the broken levees, through which the water rushed with ungovernable fury, were scores of people, both whites and blacks, some with babies in their arms, while others had dogs secured by cords. Many of them had nothing else in the world except the clothing they wore on their backs. Whenever the Dakota discovered a scene like this, the stage was swung out and the stricken ones taken aboard. Equally as add a scene was that of the poor dumb cattle standing in the water, actually starving.

The break in the old Morganza is now 400

San Francisco, April 24.—[By the Associated Press.] The Examiner will say tomorrow: "C. P. Huntington and Allen Manyel, president of the Santa Fé Company, had an interview at the Palace Hotel last Friday. Some of the Southern Pacific officials were present at the time, as were also Messrs. Magoun and Peabody of the Santa Fé organization committee. It was at Manvel's request that the meeting took place. Manvel entertained the idea that the Southern Pacific should interchange business with his road the same as it does with the Union Pacific on through business, and it was this proposition he put to Huntington last week. The new president of the Southern Pacific refused to interchange traffic wherever it was possible to get the long haul around by way of Ogden, whereupon, it is said, President Manvel intimated that steps might be taken to force an interchange business.
"All right, Mr. Manvel," Huntington is represented as saying, "yon doubtless remember the rate war of 1886, that the Santa officials were present at the time, as were

The Big Siberian Potition.

PHILADELHHIA, April 24.—At a meeting of the Siberian Exile Petition Association in this city George Kennan, the Siberian traveler, said the petition promised to be one of the largest ever presented for any ruler. He did not anticipate that it would suit. At has been notoriously charged, from one end of the State to the other, and yet the only denial ever made by the Senator was in the Examiner when he said that he had never used one penny of this company's (the Southern Preific of Kentucky) for any of his personal purposes. He very well knew that the Southern Pacific Company of Kentucky was not organized when he was elected Senator. All he said was a mild denial of so serious, in fact, such criminal charges.

The poorest defense that any man could make, or have made for him, against such charges is that they were inspired by malice growing out of envy because of the high social standing of the persons against whom they were made. This has been the countercharge so often brought against De Young of the Chronicle, and yet Mrs. de Young has a social standing that any woman in the land might be proud of. If Senator Stanford relies upon a friendly defense against the charge of corruptly procuring his seat in the Senate he will find that the spontaniety of the defense will only be equaled by the amount of coin he invests in it. The public are tired of hearing the twaddle of his magnificent bequests to the people—the youth of California; the majvelous stories of the great Palo Alto ranch and the Vina ranch; all magnified into a twenty million!!! gift. And that other tale of how he intends giving the remainder of his one hundred millions to the people want are results. But even if this were all true, they do not answer the question of whether money was paid by any one to secure votes for Mr. Stanford for United States Senator.

The public don't care whether the swells of Not Hill extend social recog-

The public don't care whether the swells of Nob Hill extend social recognition to Mr. Huntington or not, but they are interested in knowing, and have a right to know, whether the Legislature, or any part of it, was debuuched by bribery or purchase, when Mr. Stanford was elected Senator.

Main streets, between Second and Third.

Health Officer MacGowan referred to the complaints in reference to the exhuming of dead bodies in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery, on Fort Hill, and in order to fully explain the matter, read the following permit, which he granted the Odd Fellows' Association on March 11th last: on March 11th last on March 11th last.

In accordance with the authorization of the Board of Health at its session of February 20, 1890, I hereby grant you a formal permission for the removal of the bodies of the dead from the Odd Fellows' Cemetery on Fort Hill to the new Odd Fellows' Cemetery beyond the city limits. This permit must, in all cases of removal, so company the bodies to their destination. On motion of Dr. Davisson a resolution was passed that it was the sense of the board that the removal of the bodies was in open violation of the conditions of the permission granted by the Health Officer, by orders of the board

Health Officer MacGowan reported that he had condemned as unit for human habitation a number of shanties and adobe huts on Sanchez, Los Angeles and Arcadia streets and around the Plaza. These filthy huts swarm with Chinese; the placards of condemnation were torn down, and he was told that the tenants said that the owners. Messrs. Hellman Danker & owners, Messrs. Hellman, Denker & Hammel, told them that they could remain.

Health Officer MacGowan reported that Philadelphia street and Stephenson place, in the rear of the City Cemetery, needed sewering, and it was so recommended by the board.

Big Safe Removed.

A big crowd was about the corner of First and Spring streets yesterday watching the removal of a big safe watching the removal of a big safe from the cellar of the Wilson block. The safe weighed 11,000 pounds, and was put in the cellar before the building was erected. It was thought to be an impossibility to get it out, but the Citizens' Transfer Company took the contract and successfully carried it out. A derrick was rigged up, a section of the pavement removed, and the big safe was pulled out with six horses. No other company in the city would undertake the work.

AFTER THE CHINESE SMUGGLED OVER THE BORDER

A New Question in Connection with the Exclusion Act Raised by United States Attorney Cole-Further Proceedings in the De Turk Divorce Case - General Court Notes-New Cases.

A new question in connection with the Chinese Exclusion Act will soon be tested in the United States Court in this city, United States District Attorney Cole having concluded to proceed in a different manner than the one usually employed, in disposing of the Chinamen recently caught while illegally entering the State from Mexico.

These Chinamen, twenty-one in number, arrived in the city yesterday morning in charge of Deputy United States Marshal A. W. Marsh, who arrested them yesterday morning in San Diego upon a new complaint sworn out before United States Commissioner Van Dyke

The new complaint charges them The new complaint charges them with wrongfully, unlawfully, wilfully and knowingly entering the United States from a foreign port or place, contrary to the law, being then and there Chinese laborers, and it is the intention to attempt to secure a conviction subjecting them to the penalty of $1000 fine, or one year's imprisonment, or both, instead of sending them back to the country from whence they came, which is the course usually they came, which is the course usually followed.

The Chinamen brought up yesterday are divided into two squads, one com-posed of the 10 captured in the sloop April 9th, while coming through the heads into San Diego Bay, and the other of the 11 captured at Tia Juana, while crossing the line into the United States. The squads at the time

States. The squads at the time of their capture were under the leadership, one of Ah Sing and the other of Ah Ming, employes of Dr. Wo Sing, who was arrested in Los Angeles a few days ago and taken back to San Diego.

They remained in the United States Marshal's office for several hours, and were then taken to the County Jail to await arraignment, which will take place today before Commissioner Van Dyke. Nearly all of the prisoners are direct from Hong Kong, and were landed in Mexico with the purpose of securing an entrance into the State across the extensive unguarded border.

securing an entrance into the State across the extensive unguarded border. They were detained in San Diego under a complaint charging them with being in the United States, the charge being under the section requiring their return, if convicted, to Mexico, when they would seize the next chance to alip heek again.

Under the Congressional legislation providing for the exclusion of Chinese laborers, it is made a misdemeanor to laborers, it is made a misdemeanor to violate any of the provisions of the act, and the penalty is provided as before stated. The point sought to be gained in the present prosecution is to make the distinction between the sections requiring the return of the convicted men to Mexico and have the imprisonment or fine of the Chinese serve as a salutary check on the threatened invasion of the beathen upon the southern borders of the State.

The arrival of the Chinamen was soon known in Chinatorn, and quits, a hart has a started off to look up his Judge Cheney yesterday for May 1st.

The trial of J. F. Bedwell was continued by Judge Cheney yesterday be cause G. W. Glowner, Esq., his counsel, had left the case the day before the trial, and no witnesses had been summoned by him for his client. Horace Appel, Esq., who had come into the case that day, stated he had not had time to prepare for trial. Judge Cheney said that he would not do the defendant the injustice to force him to trial when left in such a peculiar predicament. The defendant exhibited receipts showing the payment of considerable money to Mr. Glowner for professional services in the case.

At a meeting of capitalists the other day a union depot company was par tially organized, and if they succe big depot will be built either on the Sisters' property fronting on Alameda and Macy streets, or where the old San Fernando-street depot now stands. THE TIMES has always advocated a union depot since Los Angeles became a great city, and a number of gentlemen, who are willing to subscribe from $5000 to $10,000 each have taken the 85000 to $10,000 each have taken the matter in hand. At the meeting held day before yesterday they subscribed 865,000, and the committee that was appointed to solicit subscriptions met with good successyesterday.

The Sisters' property consists of eight acres and is easy of access to all the roads. The Santa Fé, the Cross road and the San Gabriel Valley road have already consented to go into the

The old Salt Lake and Los Angeles Railroad scheme is being revived once more. A few days ago several capitalists of this city held a meeting and decided to place themselves in communication with the Salt Lake people who are interested in the move. The following dispatch was sent to the Salt Lake company:

following dispatch was sent to the Sait Lake company:

At a meeting of representative citizens, members of the Chamber of Commerce, held this afternoon, and after hearing James J. Evans's statement, we are of the opinion that a subsidy of $500,000, in lands and coin, together with franchise and right of way through city, can be guaranteed to a responsible convention, who will build a way through city, can be guaranteed to a responsible corporation who will build a raitroad from Salt Lake City to Los An-geles, making same a terminal point, and laying down coal here at about four dollars and fifty cents a ton.

E. W. Jones, A. H. Denker, J. B. Lankershim, L. N. Breed, E. E. Hall.

The Chamber of Commerce has taken a hand in the scheme, and will taken a hand in the scheme, and will try to get up a mass meeting in a few days to see what the people want to do. If the Sait Lake people mean bus-iness, it is very evident that one of the big eastern roads is at their back, for they would hardly be able to raise such a large sum of money.

Is used more throughout the Unted States than any machine made. It will eva-corate more fruit for the amount of tray surface with less labor than any other machine. Therefore it is the most economical and obeapest. Hundreds of them are in use throughout the Northern States for applies, while in the peach district in the Southern States there are ten to one of any other machine made. They are pro-ounced by those who use them, and have used others in connection, to be the only practical machine. In 1888 seven were bought by different parties in Ventura countr, the State, the same parties owning machines but gave preference to the Williams, as others have done before them. In have a carload of these mach nes on hand now, but as there are several parties about purchasing now, and several parties about purchasing now, and there will the several parties about purchasing now, and there will also several parties are to fill, some will have to be filled at the factory. Therefore send in your orders early. Send for catalogue and price list to be filled to the factory. Therefore send in your orders early.
